Enno Ozunu and Kishin Zenki's Time Period

The time was 637 AD, an 'exceedingly large' comet arrived, and the people took this to be the heavenly fox. In this year, Enno Ozunu was born. The Enno-ken was congratulated, for Ozunu had an unusual amount of power and was considered "the one who attracted the comet."

Incidentally, there was the case of the gas gang genius Abe no Seimei, rumored to be the white fox's reincarnation. The heavenly fox and the white fox, these two were said to take on human forms for mysterious reasons.

Enno Ozunu and Abe no Seimei were separated by 200 years, but fantastical things happened to the both of them.

Enno Ozunu passed his time in the mountains of Yamato, and afterwards walked the path of Buddha on Yoshino Mountain with the man who became Emperor, Omonouchi. Although this meeting was not recorded, the two of them definitely met each other.

Afterwards, Omonouchi descended the mountain, singlehandedly set right the chaos in court, and was crowned Tenmu Tenno. Ozunu in the mountains of Yamato, became renowned as Enogyoya.

When Tenmu Tenno's son, Monmu Tenno, was around 17 years old, much of the political power was held by Fujiwara no Kintoki's son,

Fuhito. Because he viewed Ozunu's popularity with the masses as a danger, Ozunu was exiled to Izu Oshima. Hence, in this time period,

Zenki and Ozunu's activities were passed down unconsciously
